

FINAL PROJECT

Telling Our Own Stories

Description

Take what you have learned over the past few weeks about different ways of telling stories and creating meaning and choose a story of your own to tell. You can tell your story through the medium of your choice. You could create a piece of art, write a song or a collection of poems, put together a comic, make a video, etc. The possibilities are endless!

Standard

ELAGSE8W4: Produce clear and coherent writing in which the development, organization, and style are appropriate to task, purpose, and audience.

YOUR STORY

You will pick a story you want to tell. It can be from your childhood or more recently. Or you can tell a story of the future as you imagine it. It could be a family legend. The story you tell is completely up to you. You can then choose the medium in which you tell your story. Suggestions can be found above.

Students are expected to:

- Pick a story to tell.
- Choose a medium.
- Create a narrative.

EXPLANATION

You've crafted your story. Now what? Write a one page, double-spaced explanation. Why did you choose the story and medium you used? What did your creative process look like? What were the positives and negatives of your medium? What did you learn about yourself in the process?

Students are expected to:

- Write a one page paper.
- Explain their choices.
- Describe their learning.
